SESSIONS WITH KATHY

Vinyasa Flow Yoga:

The vinyasa flow style yoga taught by Kathy will move your body, invigorate your breath and release your stress. Warm up your body with sun salutations and a creative, flowing sequence of postures that will tone, strengthen and open. Emphasis is on “vinyasa”, linking moment with breath, to maintain a fluid and meditative experience.

In each class expect to sweat, explore how different yoga poses feel in your body, and experience a deep stretch and a grounding savasana.

Students will have the ability to build on set sequences throughout the week, and also to explore new poses that will be introduced in each class.

All of Kathy's classes are accompanied by carefully curated playlists with inspiring music and students are treated to aromatherapy while in their final resting pose at the end of practice.

These classes will challenge each student to go beyond where they have been before, in a safe environment that encourages questions, smiles and laughter!

*Kathy will provide modifications for students who are practicing at different levels, including those who are just starting their yoga journey. Although this practice is suitable for all levels, it is advised that you have the physical fitness that allows you to flow through several basic poses that are linked together. This will make for a more enjoyable practice!

Stretch & Restore Yoga:

Get out of your head and into your body for 90 minutes of relaxation and release.

This class is a combination of gentle flow, active and passive stretches (yin), followed by healing restorative poses. Mindful breathwork will be weaved throughout. Get ready to stretch it out and release tension.

Yin Yoga is a series of deep stretches that target the deeper fascia of the spine & pelvis allowing for improved flexibility of soft tissues, mobility and the release of stress in the body & mind. Restorative Yoga involves a series of longer held poses designed to restore balance and healing to the body and mind.

Yoga Nidra Meditation will be incorporated at the end of several of these practices. Yoga Nidra is often referred to as Yogic Sleep and is a meditation that is designed to take you into a very deep relaxation and healing mode.
